Overview of Kuwait

Snapshot

Overview	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The State of Kuwait ("Kuwait" or the "Sovereign") is a sovereign emirate on the coast of the Arabian Gulf, covering a total area of 17,818 square kilometers. Kuwait is a constitutional monarchy, headed by His Highness Sheikh Sabah Al-Ahmad Al-Jaber Al-Sabah (the "Emir").
Economy	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Kuwait enjoys an open economy, dominated by the Government sector. Its economy, while primarily dependent on the oil industry, has witnessed increased contribution from non-oil sectors. Kuwait has one of the lowest external break-even oil prices globally, and the lowest in the GCC, making it more resilient to the recent decline in oil prices. In addition, it has registered substantial fiscal and current account surpluses, which serve as a buffer.
Strategic Vision	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Kuwait has launched a long-term policy vision under the banner of "Kuwait Vision 2035". The vision encompasses six strategic aims: increasing the GDP, encouraging the private sector, supporting human and social development, promoting demographic policies, enhancing and improving the effectiveness of government administration and consolidating the Islamic and Arab identity. Kuwait has set medium-term development strategies with a view to ultimately achieving its vision.

Recent Developments

GDP Growth	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Economic growth seen improving despite drop in oil prices, as project awards pick up. Fiscal and external buffers give Kuwait ample capacity to sustain spending plans. Non-oil growth is expected to accelerate slightly as capital spending on projects improves. Non-oil growth is expected around 5% in 2015 and 2016.
Public Finance	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Fiscal deficits are likely in the near term with oil prices at current levels, on the back of rapid growth in government spending and lower oil revenues. Inflation expected to remain under control, supported by a stronger dinar and limited global inflation. Domestic pressures have risen, but remain contained.
Household Debt	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Household debt growth has moderated but remains healthy. Kuwaiti employment growth picked up in 2014, particularly in the private sector. Kuwaiti household income growth has also been healthy, further supporting the household sector.
Credit Growth	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Credit growth maintained a recovery though it has been held back by corporate rescheduling. Pickup in government project implementation has supported credit growth. We expect it in the 8-9% range in 2015. Government project awards accelerated last year. With the recent announcement of mega project awards and a strong pipeline of tenders building up, FY15/16 should see a pick up in execution.
Real Estate Activity	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Real estate activity has been strong reaching a record KD 4.3 billion in 2014, sales rose 19%; support has come from strong growth in the investment and commercial segments.
