What are cookies?

Cookies are small data files that are placed on your computer or mobile device when you visit a Website. Cookies are widely used by Website owners in order to make their Websites work, or to work more efficiently, as well as to provide reporting information.

Cookies set by the Website owner (in this case, National Bank of Kuwait S.A.K.P.) are called "first party cookies". Cookies set by parties other than the Website owner are called "third-party cookies". The parties that set these third-party cookies can recognise your computer both when it visits the Website in question and also when it visits certain other Websites.

What about other tracking technologies, like web beacons?

Cookies are not the only way to recognise or track visitors to a Website. Some Websites use similar technologies from time to time, like web beacons (sometimes called "tracking pixels" or "clear gifs"). These are tiny graphics files that contain a unique identifier that enable Website owners to recognise when someone has visited their Website or opened an e-mail sent to them. This allows Website owners, for example, to monitor the traffic patterns of users from one page to another within the Website, to deliver or communicate with cookies. We do not use web beacons or other tracking technologies.

Do you use Flash cookies or Local Shared Objects?

"Flash Cookies" (also known as Local Shared Objects or "LSOs") are used by some Website owners to, among other things, collect and store information about your use of services, fraud prevention and for other site operations. We do not use Flash cookies or Local Shared Objects.

These cookies are used to enable you to share pages and content that you find interesting on our Website through third-party social networking and other Websites. We do not use these sort of cookies.
